HOLY SPIRIT PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

We are called to embrace faith in the Son of God as Lord and Savior. In our Roman Catholic tradition, through the cleansing waters of Baptism, we die to self and rise as children of the Father.

Confirmed, empowered and guided by His Spirit, we become the church when we gather in His name, are taught with His living Word, and are nourished with His living presence.

So that, we might be sent to witness the Good News of the Paschal Mystery in loving service to the human family; and be united with Him and His Saints in Heaven forever.

Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception

“Hail Mary, full of grace”. For thousands of years, million of times per day the Virgin Mary is greeted by the faithful with the greeting of the Archangel. The sons of the church learn from the words of the Archangel Gabriel that the fullness of the mystery of God’s grace was realized in Holy Mary. St. Paul the Apostles teaches us that the Father made all fullness dwell in His Incarnate Son (c.f. Col 1:12-20), which overflows from Christ’s head and spills out on His Mystical Body that is the Church. Before descending in Body, Christ’s fullness was spread in a unique and unrepeatable way on Mary, Predestined from eternity to be the Mother of God.

PREPARE THE WAY OF THE LORD

A voice cries out: "In the wilderness prepare the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. Every valley shall be lifted up, and every mountain and hill be made low; the uneven ground shall become level, and the rough places a plain. Then the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all people shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord has spoken." Isaiah 40 3-5

Isaiah prophesied to the people of Israel to prepare the way of the Lord, for the Glory of God to be revealed in the midst of His people. In the same way, Our Lord reminds us on this First Sunday of Advent to prepare a way for the Lord and make straight a highway to the Lord Who longs to come and dwell in each one of our hearts. Many times we do not stop and think during these times to reflect upon our lives and hear God's voice to have this Divine union. John the Baptist repeated this prophecy for the people and we are reminded during this season of Advent to reflect upon our lives in preparation to receive Jesus our Lord and Savior. He said, "I am the voice of one crying out in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,' as the prophet Isaiah said. John.1.23

Let us not forget to stop and hear the voice of God that reminds us especially during this season of Advent to prepare our lives to receive our Lord who is longing to come and dwell with us.

Please join us for Weekly Prayer gathering every Wednesday at 7pm EST in the Chapel. If you are unable to come physically please join through Zoom. Meeting ID: 869 5740 7048.

Immaculate Conception Reflections

Mary's Sinlessness and Simplicity

It has been my mission lately to live as simply as possible. One of my mottos has become: "Make Due". In other words, if I want green beans for supper but only have broccoli on hand, I will make due with broccoli. If I have a couch with broken springs and am unable to replace it, I will make due with a few chairs. If I run out of shredded cheese, I will shred some by hand. In other words, I will try my best to use what I already have on hand instead of jumping on Amazon or jumping in my car and going to the store.

One of my models for living simply is the Blessed Virgin Mary, whose Immaculate Conception we celebrate today. I can picture her in her home, baking bread, mending clothing or spending time with her family and friends. I can't imagine she desired more earthly things, and I can imagine her being thankful for everything she did have, no matter how small. Her pure soul proclaimed the greatness of the Lord and her simple spirit lacked for nothing.

In today's Gospel, Mary's response to the Angel Gabriel was "I am the handmaid of the Lord." She did not put on airs saying, "Why yes, I knew there was something special about me. I thought for sure God had a very important mission in mind for me." Nor did she demonstrate false humility by responding, "Who, me? No, no, no. I think there must be some mistake here. I could never be good enough for something so monumental." Rather, she recognized herself for what she truly was, for what we all are, simply servants. Simple handmaids.

The second part of her response was, "May it be done unto me according to your word." She didn't say, "Hey, could you wait a week or so while I prepare all my family and friends for this, so they don't freak out on me?" She didn't request "Ok, sure, but could you make sure I don't gain too much weight and find a comfy spot for me to give birth?" She simply allowed it to be done, in God's timing and in God's way.

On this special Solemnity, may we not only recognize Mary in her sinlessness, but in her simplicity as well. Sin complicates and multiplies confusion. It fosters negativity and division. But Mary did not suffer those side effects within her being. She desired one thing, to do the will of God. As we seek to live less sinfully and more simply, may this be our desire as well.

Oral Lichen Planus – Questions and Answers

Last week, we described lichen planus is a disease that can affect the skin and any lining mucosa. This could be the oral, esophageal, vaginal mucosa as well as the external skin. Often, it is found only in the oral cavity of a patient.

Q: How do I know if I have oral Lichen planus? A: The diagnosis must be obtained from a qualified health care professional. Usually, a biopsy is advisable to establish the diagnosis and rule out other diseases.

Q: I have oral lichen planus and my mouth hurts each time I brush my teeth. How do I avoid this? A: Often, it is necessary to use a mild tooth paste with a minimum of flavoring and other ingredients. A soft toothbrush is essential.

Q: What treatment is necessary for oral lichen planus? A: Usually, the reticular form of oral lichen planus does not require any treatment, except periodic observation by a health care professional. The erosive and ulcerative forms can usually be controlled with the use of topical corticosteroids. In some cases, systemic steroids or other medications may be prescribed by your doctor.

Q: Does OLP go away with treatment? A: OLP is a chronic disease that can be controlled but not eliminated. A goal of therapy is to convert bothersome erosive or ulcerative oral lichen planus to the asymptomatic reticular form. Individuals with OLP often require some form of maintenance therapy to keep their disease under control. OLP can be controlled but often will exhibit disease flare-ups requiring additional treatment.

Q: Is oral lichen planus contagious? A: No. Your partner or family member will not be infected by OLP and you did not catch it from anyone.

R: Q: Can oral lichen planus lead to oral cancer? A: The association with cancer remains controversial, but there are reported cases of this occurring. This concern reinforces the essential need to obtain an accurate diagnosis, typically with a biopsy. All patients with OLP should have a periodic evaluation to assess the effectiveness of therapy and to monitor suspicious changes. If your oral lichen planus does not respond to treatment, or if you should notice a significant change, you should contact your health care provider for further evaluation.

On Thursdays, immediately after the 9:00a.m. Mass until 7:00p.m. in the church. Join us for the Angelus followed by the Rosary at 12:00noon, in the Church.

The celebration of a Christian's life brings hope and consolation to the living. As we plan for our eternal life, it is always good to remember those that we love. Having a Will is good stewardship.

When there is a Will there is a way to be an angel for your parish. Please remember Holy Spirit Catholic Church in your Will.

These gifts help us to build a solid foundation for the Catholic formation of future generations. We appreciate the thoughtfulness of parishioners who have left bequests to Holy Spirit Catholic Church.

You can have an everlasting influence on the lives of your parish family of Holy Spirit Catholic Church. There are various forms of bequests that can be made. Bequests may come in the ▼ form of a specific dollar amount, by adding Holy Spirit Parish to your account; securities, real estate, tangible property, and retirement account assets.

If a Will or Trust already exists, a codicil amendment can be easily added to your current will. Holy Spirit Catholic Church is a charitable non-profit institution; therefore all bequests are fully tax deductible for estate tax purposes.

For additional information, please contact the parish office at 561-585-5970 or e-mail office@holyspiritlantana.com or complete the form below and drop it in the offertory basket or bring it to the parish office and someone will contact you. Thank you for your generosity!
